A Community Guide to the Global Fund's Sustainability, Transition and Co-financing Policy

Greetings from the Regional Platform for Communication and Coordination for Anglophone Africa, hosted by EANNASO!

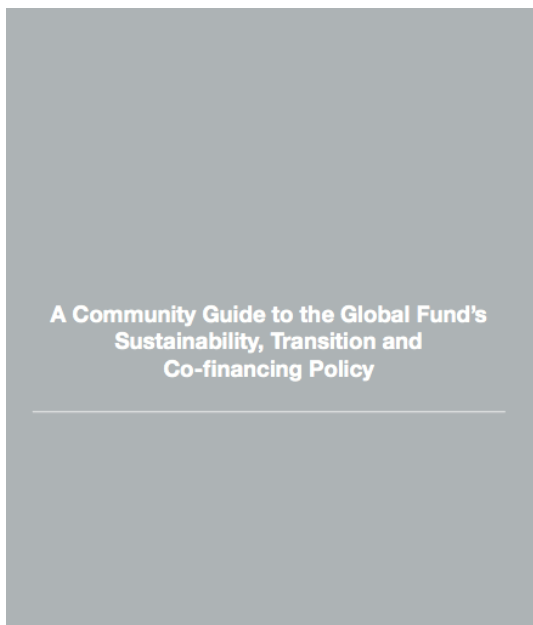

This week, we are releasing our fourth and final community guide on the Global Fund's new policies and strategies that were approved at the 35th Board Meeting in April 2016. This community guide is all about the Global Fund's approach to sustaining the programs it supports, ensuring that transitions from Global Fund grants do not threaten the health and rights of people who need services, and promoting increased domestic resource contributions from governments.

A Community Guide to the Global Fund's Sustainability, Transition and Co-financing Policy

This community guide is a basic overview of the Global Fund's Sustainability, Transition and Co-financing Policy.

In this guide you will find:

- What sustainability, transition and co-financing mean & why we need a policy for these issues

- The four guiding principles of the policy and what they mean for us
- The Global Fund's step-by-step approach for responsible transition, leading up to when countries become ineligible for future grants

This community guide is available in two languages:

English:

A Community Guide to the Global Fund's Sustainability, Transition and Co-financing Policy

Portugues:

Guia Comunitario para a Politica de Sustentabilidade, Transicao e Co-financiamento do Fundo Mundial
